The Regional Municipality of York introduces new fees at two waste disposal facilities

Fee changes at McCleary Court Community Environmental Centre and Georgina Waste Transfer Station

NEWMARKET – The Regional Municipality of York has revised waste disposal fees for residual waste at two waste disposal facilities.

Fee changes will take effect Thursday, March 31, 2011 at McCleary Court Community Environmental Centre (CEC) and Monday, April 4, 2011 at Georgina Waste Transfer Station. Disposal fees for all diversion materials remain unchanged at both facilities.

The change in fees helps align residual waste disposal fees to market rates and act as an incentive to promote diversion. York Region waste facilities offer many programs to offset the cost of waste that cannot be diverted from landfill. Residents can continue to dispose of regular household waste, recyclables and green bin material, as per their municipality’s guidelines, at the curb. The updated residual waste disposal user fee changes for these facilities are as follows:

McCleary Court CEC	Residual Waste Disposal Cost
	Residential Customers		Industrial, Commercial, and Institutional Customers
	Current	After March 31	Current	After March 31
Minimum Charge	$7	$10	$25	$28
