Dear Denis Kelly

We are writing to advise that public consultation on the draft proposed source protection plan and explanatory document has now begun. This is also an opportunity for implementing bodies to provide comments. The deadline for written comments is May 25, 2012 at 4:30pm.

A hard copy of each document has been provided with this letter. Electronic copies are also posted at our website at www.ourwatershed.ca.

If you submitted comments during the pre-consultation period that ended on January 13, 2012, thank you for those comments. To see the committee's response, please refer to the explanatory document enclosed with this letter.

It is important for you to review these documents and provide us with your written comments before the deadline of May 25, 2012.
